

Brookfield to Invest $500 Million in Strategic Partnership with OpenAI

MAY 11, 2026

NEW YORK, May 11, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Brookfield today announced that it has agreed to invest $500 million in The OpenAI Deployment Company, a newly formed AI deployment platform established in partnership with OpenAI and a group of leading global investors.

The OpenAI Deployment Company is focused on enabling large enterprises to move from pilot AI use cases to scaled, enterprise-wide deployment – accelerating large-scale adoption and addressing one of the key bottlenecks in realizing AI-driven productivity.

Anuj Ranjan, CEO of Brookfield's private equity business, commented: "Artificial intelligence will be a defining driver of productivity across the backbone of the global economy. We have already seen tremendous productivity gains from AI applications across our portfolio to date. The opportunity now is execution at scale – driving further growth and greater performance across a wider set of businesses and functions. We are pleased to partner with OpenAI to support the development of a platform that combines their leading AI technology with Brookfield's operating expertise to drive transformation across essential industrial and services businesses globally."

Brookfield Business Corporation, the flagship listed vehicle of Brookfield's private equity business, will lead Brookfield's investment in the partnership.

The transaction reflects Brookfield's longstanding focus on operational value creation and its position as a strategic partner to leading corporations and institutions globally. Over the last several years, Brookfield has been scaling its AI activities through a range of value creation initiatives. Building on this strategy, Brookfield expects to draw on The OpenAI Deployment Company's capabilities across its operating companies and investment platform to accelerate productivity initiatives, improve decision-making and drive meaningful efficiency gains.
